2. School Information

Q1: What is the history of the school?

A: The school was founded in 1931 and was originally located in Happy Valley on Hong Kong Island. It moved to its new campus in Tseung Kwan O in 2000.

Q2: What is the school's mission?

A: The school's motto is "Benevolence and Fraternity." We aim to provide student-centered education, focusing on fostering independent thinking and creativity. Our approach emphasizes "Five Self-Education" (五自教育), which includes nurturing students' self-confidence, building a positive self-image, and enhancing their abilities in self-discipline, self-learning, and self-evaluation—equipping them with lifelong learning and problem-solving skills.

Q3: What is the school's class structure?

A: The school uses a "parallel class" structure, with four classes for each level from Secondary 1 to Secondary 6.

Q4: What is the medium of instruction at the school?

A: The school values the development of biliteracy and trilingualism in its students. In some junior secondary classes, Science and Mathematics are taught in English, while other subjects are taught in Chinese. In senior secondary, the medium of instruction will be English or Chinese, depending on the students' subject choices and language abilities.

Q5: What is the school's homework and assessment policy?

A: The school maintains strict standards for students' assignments, emphasizing both quality and quantity. Students must complete their assigned work within the given deadlines to consolidate, extend, and assess their learning. The school implements a continuous assessment policy and has four summative assessments per year (two uniform tests and two exams).

Q6: How does the school catering for learner diversity?

A: The school provides enrichment programs to enhance students' abilities in various areas and nurture gifted students. The school also has a school-based guidance program to consolidate the foundations of underachieving students.

Q7: How can parents stay informed about their child's progress at school?

A: The school places great importance on home-school cooperation. Parents can stay updated through school notices, the school website, text messages, student handbook, and parent handbook. Additionally, the school organizes events such as New Student Parents' Day, Parents' Night, and Academic Assessment Day to help parents understand their children's experiences at school and to promote co-education.

Q8: What is the school's strategy for student growth and support?

A: The school highly values students' moral development and implements a whole-school approach. The school has also hired additional student counselors to strengthen support for students' growth.

Q9: How does the school perform in public examinations?

A: The school's performance in the 2025 Hong Kong Diploma of Secondary Education Examination was excellent. The passing rate for 11 subjects was higher than the city-wide average, and five of them achieved a 100% passing rate. The distinction rate for Business, Accounting, and Financial Studies reached 61.5%, and the distinction rate for History was 100%, both well above the average in Hong Kong.
